

AAO FULL-TIME FACULTY FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

The AAO believes in and supports orthodontic education. To this end, the AAO is providing Fellowship funds to help reduce student debt by covering orthodontic program tuition and/or living expenses in an effort to assist those who are either entering or have recently entered orthodontic education careers and who are currently students, residents or junior faculty.

OVERVIEW

The FFT Fellowship Program is open to orthodontic junior faculty members and residents attending U.S. and Canadian CODA-accredited orthodontic graduate programs. Fellowship awards will be 2 years at $30,000 each year for a total of $60,000. Participation will be for two years plus, at minimum two years of post-fellowship teaching.

In return for the Fellowship award, the recipient agrees to teach orthodontics as a full-time orthodontics educator at a CODA accredited institution in the US or Canada for at least the number of years for which they were a Fellow. The years cannot run concurrently with the Fellowship years. So, if an orthodontist were a Fellow for 2 years, the fulfillment years begin at the end of their 2nd Fellowship year and continue for the 2 subsequent years. This would, in effect, result in a fulfillment obligation equal to the number of years on fellowship.

Please note that Fellowship participation is a serious commitment by the successful candidate to the AAO, thus there will be a penalty in the event of early withdrawal from the program.

Application materials are due by February 28. Applicants will be notified of acceptance by early June.

PENALTY FOR WITHDRAWAL

Fellowship participation is a serious commitment by the successful candidate to the AAO. It represents a unique opportunity for the AAO to benefit the recipient with generous funding, while building a pipeline of dedicated orthodontic educators. It is intended to provide helpful financial support to those interested in pursuing a career in orthodontic education in exchange for a multi-year commitment to full-time teaching. Early departure from the program reduces the positive impact of the program.

For purposes of determining the penalty for withdrawal should a recipient fail to complete his/her teaching commitment, the amount owed will consist of repayment of the amount yet to be forgiven through teaching plus a 12% penalty. For purposes of calculating the amount forgiven, each year taught after conclusion of the Fellowship period is equivalent to $30,000.

This is best illustrated by example,

The recipient of a two-year Fellowship award receives $60,000 during their Fellow period. The Fellow has taught for one year for each year after the end of the Fellowship period. The repayment and penalty for not completing the final year of teaching commitment are as follows:

Amount yet to be Forgiven (1 year * $30,000)	$30,000
12% Penalty	3,600
Amount of Repayment	$33,600

Each participant will be required to execute a conditional Promissory Note that will provide for the repayment and penalty in the event he/she does not complete the teaching commitment. The Note will also require repayment of all attorneys' fees and costs in the event collection is required. The repayment penalty will apply in all instances when a recipient does not complete their teaching commitment except in the event of death or disability. Unusual and extraordinary circumstances will be reviewed by a qualified committee of the AAO Board of Trustees or their appointees. Decisions of this committee will be final.

ADDENDUM B

Teaching Practicum Requirements

Teaching Practicum

During each year of the Fellowship and with guidance, supervision and coordination by their department chair or a designee, Fellows will be expected to function as instructors in the principal educational settings of an orthodontic program curriculum: classroom (didactic course), small group conference and clinic. Using checklists provided by the FFT Fellowship Program and introduced at the Training Sessions, Fellows will self-assess their teaching performance and receive feedback from the department chair or designated other faculty members who observe the Fellow's instructional activities. The nature and frequency of specific teaching assignments will be determined by each team in conjunction with course directors at their respective program. The following guidelines are suggested for teaching assignments:

- Prepare and conduct one classroom presentation in each term of the Fellowship including development of all visual materials, handouts and other educational materials needed for the class. In conjunction with these classroom presentations, Fellows should have the experience of posting PowerPoint materials and other resources on the course website and plan an in-class activity that involves analysis of a case (problem) or some other activity to stimulate discussion among students and student-teacher interaction. The department chair or a designee and/or designated other faculty will observe and provide feedback on teaching strategies and organization of the subject matter, and the Fellow will self-assess using observations forms and self-assessment checklists provided by the FFT Fellowship Program.
- Conduct one small group case conference or seminar each year of the Fellowship, where the student/teacher serves primarily as a group facilitator and used facilitation skills appropriate to the case conference format – guides discussion with questions, requests clarification of statements, summarized key points, etc. The case conference/seminar can occur in either semester. As with the classroom presentation, the Fellow will be expected to develop all educational materials needed to implement the conference/seminar. The department chair or a designee and/or designated other faculty will observe and provide feedback, and the Fellow will self-assess using observations forms and self-assessment checklists provided by the FFT Fellowship Program.
- Serve as a tutor in the clinic at least one-half day per week for eight weeks to occur once during the Fellowship. The clinical teaching assignment can occur in any semester, but scheduling this activity in the spring semester is encouraged. The Fellow/tutor will be expected to provide hands-on coaching for an assignment group of dental students while they provide patient care in the clinic. The department chair or a designee/teacher will coordinate scheduling and either personally supervise and observe the Fellow on each day of clinical tutoring or will make arrangements for appropriate supervision and observation. Department chair or a designees or other supervising faculty will provide feedback and the Fellows will self-assess using observation forms and self-assessment checklists provided by the FFT Fellowship Program.
